

Your Future Self

If God is calling young leaders, what are you called to do?

How does your faith motivate you to be a leader?

Flash forward 15 years. You are now an adult. You may be a doctor, lawyer, teacher, musician, in the military, etc. Here is where you can daydream, and imagine the path for your future self. Your task with this assignment is to reflect on your past actions and your future goals. Where do you see yourself in 15 years?

First: Make a collage that represents your future self. Your collage can be in words (think - word cloud), personal photographs, magazine pictures, or photos found online (with citations). You must share at least eight unique images or words. Make sure your collage answers the following questions:

- What will you be?
- What will you have done?
- What will be important in your life?

Second: You must choose three of your images or words and answer:

- How will your faith have motivated you to be in this position?
- How are you a leader in your future position?

Please either record a 90 second video or audio file for your submission.

Your final product should contain:

1. A collage representing your future self with eight+ words and/or images.
2. An audio or video file responding to the above questions.
